President’s Welcome

On behalf of the officers, directors, and show committee members, I welcome all of you to the forty-second show presented by the National Philatelic Exhibitions of Washington, D.C.

We especially welcome all of the returning and new dealers to our show, members of the five convening societies, the many exhibitors, the excellent jury, the presence of the American Philatelic Society (APS), and all visitors, both old and new. The approximately 80 dealers offer a wide range of material for collectors, from beginning to advanced. Items from the United States collection of Mike Dooley will be featured at the Alan Blair Auction presented by Emerald Ventures of Richmond, Virginia.

Our convening societies this year are the Collectors Club of New York, the France and Colonies Philatelic Society, the Ottoman and Near East Philatelic Society, the Society for Czechoslovak Philately, and the Bermuda Collectors Society. These societies, as well as other philatelic groups, will be hosting talks open to the public during the show. Please look further for details. Members of the convening societies and others offer a very rich and diverse showing in more than 230 frames of exhibits. No one can see them all in detail. But I encourage you to try something new. Select some exhibits that you feel you must see, and take a quick look at some that may pique your interest in an area that you are not now collecting.

I also encourage those who have interest to attend the APS Town Meeting. It’s one of the best ways to learn about the status of stamp collecting in the United States.

Most of all, I hope you will enjoy NAPEX 2017, “The Nation’s First-Class Stamp Show.”

The NAPEX cachet and cancel designs reflect events that are related to the Washington, DC, Maryland, and Virginia area or are of national interest. This year we honor NAPEX, the 100th Anniversary of the birth of John F. Kennedy, and astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr.

NAPEX is an annual Philatelic Exhibition, part of the World Series of Philately shows, first held in 1950. It is now held on an annual basis, usually in early June. The NAPEX cachet this year features the White House representing the Capital Region.

2017 marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of our 35th President, John F. Kennedy, who was born on May 29, 1917. He is honored on a cacheted envelope and a souvenir card and both feature the Presidential Seal. President Kennedy, commonly referred to as JFK, grew up in Massachusetts and graduated from Harvard College. After graduation he travelled throughout Europe and worked for his father, Ambassador Kennedy. He served in the U.S. Navy during WWII and was subsequently elected to the House of Representatives in 1947. He served in the U.S. Senate from 1953 until 1960, and then became the youngest elected President of the U.S. in 1961. He was assassinated in Dallas, TX on November 22, 1963. He is remembered for several historical events including the Bay of Pigs, the Cuban Missile Crisis, the establishment of the Peace Corps, the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, promoting Civil Rights and encouraging space exploration.

John H. Glenn, Jr. was one of the Mercury Seven, who were test pilots selected to become the first U.S. astronauts. He was a distinguished Marine Corps aviator and engineer and became the first American to orbit the Earth. He completed three Earth orbits in Friendship 7 on February 20, 1962. John Glenn left NASA in 1964 and retired from the Marine Corps the following year. He was elected the U.S. Senate from Ohio in 1974 and served there for 24 years until 1999. In 1998, while he still was serving in the Senate, he became the oldest person to fly in space when he was a crew member of the Discovery space shuttle. John Glenn was the last surviving member of the Mercury Seven team when he died on December 8, 2016 at the age of 95.

These items and other NAPEX covers and cards are available at the Information Table (Table i) and at our website www.napex.org/souvenirs. NAPEX 2017 extends special thanks to Michael Bean for printing our engraved souvenirs. We also acknowledge the outstanding support of Mr. Shawn McAllister, Officer in Charge of the McLean, VA post office, and his staff for the temporary Post Office and sales and cancellation activities.

Did you know that a village at the bottom of the Grand Canyon eats most of its mail? Or that one of America’s newest national park units was once so secret it used multiple undercover addresses? Trailblazing: 100 Years of Our National Parks, a twenty-one-month temporary exhibition at the Smithsonian’s National Postal Museum, celebrates the centenary of the National Park Service by chronicling these and other intersections between the mail and our national parks. Featuring original postage stamp art from the United States Postal Service and artifacts loaned by the National Park Service, Trailblazing explores the myriad and sometimes surprising ways that mail moves to, through, and from our national parks.

32¢ Grand Canyon stamp art (Celebrate the Century Issue), 1998

Loan from United States Postal Service, Postmaster General’s Collection

Trailblazing tells the stories of park rangers, seasonal employees, and backpackers who live deep in many national parks and interact with a range of postal facilities. Some are full-service post offices, while others are part-time or seasonal facilities. Either way, the USPS is the only lifeline to books, movies, magazines, medicines, hardware, and other small articles that would otherwise be difficult to obtain. A special focus of the exhibition is the stamps and postal history of the Grand Canyon, where the only mule mail routes operating in the U.S. today serve Phantom Ranch and the Havasupai Indian Reservation (adjacent to the national park). Most of the mail destined for Supai is food!

Manhattan Project censored mail, 1944

At the Manhattan Project’s site in Los Alamos, New Mexico, General Leslie Groves, physicist Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, and others who developed the atomic bomb once sent and received their mail from several undercover addresses including PO Box 1663 in Santa Fe. Today the Los Alamos National Laboratory site is part of the Manhattan Project National Historical Park administered by the National Park Service, which also includes Oak Ridge, Tennessee and Hanford, Washington.

Trailblazing: 100 Years of Our National Parks is on view in the William H. Gross Stamp Gallery at the Smithsonian’s National Postal Museum until March 25, 2018. The companion website address is www.postalmuseum.si.edu/trailblazing.
Call for Papers for the Tenth Blount Postal History Symposium
November 1–2, 2018
World War I and its Immediate Aftermath
Smithsonian National Postal Museum, Washington, D.C.

On Monday, November 11, 1918, World War I came to an end. Worried from militarism, nationalism and imperialism, the Great War broke empires, challenged established gender and race relations, and destroyed millions of lives. Mail became the critical link for the families separated and desperate for news. Governments responded to these developments and the disruption of communication networks, and struggled to determine who should be able to communicate with whom and about what.

Deadlines for One-page Proposal and CV Proposals: June 15, 2017
In addition to a one-page proposal, each individual should submit a one-page curriculum vitae with contact information (e-mail, phone, address).
Notification of acceptance will be mailed on or about August 1, 2017.
Papers are due by September 1, 2018. Accepted proposals must result in papers of 4500–5500 words, including bibliographic material, citations, and image titles. The articles must be formatted according to the guidelines of the Smithsonian Institution Scholarly Press. Images should be placed and discussed within the text and image permissions must be acquired. Writers will have the opportunity to revise their papers after the symposium and before the papers are considered for publication.

Possible Topics Include:
Disruptions and shifts in mail transportation systems
Communication alternatives to the mail
Censorship of and by postal systems
War-saving and thrift-saving stamp programs
War propaganda and the mail
War-time supply issues (inks, papers, etc.)
Changing demographics and policies towards postal employees
Postal systems in occupied territories
Rise of airmail
Stamps of the new countries

For more information on formatting and permissions, please see the call for papers for 2018 at:
